

RALEIGH IN BRIEF.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS IN AND AROUND THE CAPITAL.

Short Items of News Gathered on the Fly by the Chronicle's Reporters.

The big chrysanthemum show to-day and to-night.

The Governor yesterday appointed J. F. Miller, of Forsyth county, a notary public.

The chrysanthemum show will be open to-day at twelve o'clock. Excellent lunch can be had there after that hour.

Dr. John H. Pool, Grand Master of the Grand Lodge I. O. O. F., who has been critically ill at his home at South Mills, Camden county, is convalescent.

The CHRONICLE will in a few days begin to give interviews with prominent business men of the city with reference to holding a great state exposition here in 1891. This is one thing that must be a be.

Miss Maggie Reese has just returned from a second visit to the Northern markets, where she purchased the latest novelties in winter millinery; also some bargains in felt hats, ribbons, fancy feathers, &c., &c.

The experiment farm will show one hundred and sixty different varieties of chrysanthemums at the show to-day and to-night, besides a number of varieties of choice roses. That's the kind of a show Raleigh makes.

Special railroad rates will be given from points adjacent to Raleigh to the Grand concert to be given here on the evening of November 20th by the famous Thirteenth Regiment Band of New York. It will be the grand event of the entire season in Raleigh. Reserved seats will be $1.50.

One of the places of popular resort now is the bookstore of Messrs. A. Williams & Co. It is the attractive place of the city. The tremendous display and brilliant and elegant beauty of the books, games, novelties &c., show there are bewildering. It is a place which makes little folks happy and keeps grown people continually interested.

The selection of Mr. Walter W. Parrish as alderman from the First Ward to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Mr. Samuel Wilder is a good one. No stauncher Democrat than Walter Parrish lives in the ward and he is a progressive young mechanic who will without doubt succeed himself in the coming municipal election.

In the Board of aldermen last night there came very near being a settlement of the light question. The moon came up in all her mighty splendor and the committee would have been totally eclipsed, but that old comet called "refer to the light committee" came sweeping along and darkness still hangs her black mantle over the suburbs. Oh! let us have some light, more light, better light or no light at all.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

The Street Committee Getting Lively -- A Street Sweeper Ordered Purchased -- Other Matters of City Interest.

The board met in adjourned session last night, Alderman Cowper, in absence of the mayor, presiding. Present: Aldermen Bagwell, Cowper, House, Snelling, Grimes, Latta, Lumsden, Womble, Lee, Ward, Bowes, and Robinson.

The street committee recommended that work be at once commenced in opening up North street west. Recommendation concurred in.

The street committee recommended that grading of west Martin street to site of new depot be proceeded with at once. Recommendation concurred in.

The street committee recommended an appropriation of $400 for a street sweeping machine. Recommendation concurred in.

The street committee recommended the appointment of a committee of appraisers to pass on the extension of Elm street on to Cabarrus street. Concurred in.

Alderman Robinson called attention of the board to the gully at corner of Martin and West street and suggested that it be attended to. Referred to street committee.

Application was made by Alfred Williams & Co., to put in a Springfield gas machine to furnish light for their store. Referred to the light committee.

A proposition was read from Mr. Collier to put in 50 or more sun vapor street lights for street lighting purposes, to erect free of charge and furnish all material and labor to clean and in working order, to be lighted all dark hours and guarantee each light to be equal to 15 candle power at $13.50 per light per annum. Referred to light committee with the mayor and city attorney with power to act and to act at once.

The market committee reported having had new lights put in the market; also reported much complaint on part of renters of the middle stalls with regard to heating their stalls, there being no means provided for conveying smoke from stoves. Referred to market committee.

The fire committee reported the building of a wooden structure on the old Fowle property, corner Blount and Martin streets, in violation of fire district ordinances. Also a peanut roasting frame house in rear of G. O. Ball's store on Harget street. The building on Blount and Martin streets was allowed to remain, and the one in rear of G. O. Ball's was ordered to be removed.

Messrs. Yancey & Stronach and Barber & Johnson asked permission to stand wagons and other vehicles upon the street in front of places of business.

This would necessitate a repeal of an ordinance concerning the obstruction of streets which the board declined to do, and it was referred to the street committee.

Mr. Walter W. Parrish was elected alderman from the First ward to succeed Mr. Samuel Wilder, resigned.

AN APPEAL FOR LIFE.

The Counsel for Willie Davis Appeals To His Relatives and Friends in North Carolina for Relief.

The readers of the CHRONICLE were last week made acquainted with the case of Willie Davis, a native of Chapel Hill, who is now under sentence of death in Texas. He has relatives in Raleigh, Winston and in Buncombe and Orange counties. His lawyer, Mr. Brown G. Johnson, of Fort Worth, Texas, has taken an appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States, and is willing to do all that he can to save Davis' life. The cost of the transcript in the case will be one hundred and twenty-five dollars. The lawyer writes that he has done and is doing all that he can for Davis, but he is not able to take money from his own pocket to conduct the case.

Mr. Julian S. Carr has already sent Davis $200, which was spent in the defense. Mr. Johnson writes that if Davis' friends in North Carolina will pay the cost of the transcript he will do all he can to save Davis free of charge. December 5th is the last day allowed for Mr. Johnson to pay for the transcript and send it to the Supreme court of the United States.

Now who will help to save a human life? Action must be taken quickly. If the amount is raised it must be done at once. The Durham Globe has opened a subscription list and has secured $26.

The CHRONICLE will receive subscriptions and see them promptly forwarded. Would you like your friends to notice an appeal like this if you were in Davis' situation? Isn't it worth $125 to try to save a human life? Let responses be quick, friends. Come out at once.

In response to the appeal already made, the following subscriptions have been made at the CHRONICLE office:

STATE CHRONICLE, $5.00

MANY CHRYSANTHEMUMS.

The Beautiful Show Arranged for To-day and To Night.

All day long yesterday the ladies were busily engaged in arranging the beautiful chrysanthemum show for to-day and to night, and this morning the spacious exhibit hall in the Henry building is a scene of gorgeous beauty and is still being made more beautiful.

There are many varieties of the popular and beautiful chrysanthemum shown -- some of which excite the liveliest admiration. Everybody ought to see the show.

Lunch will be served to-day by the ladies and to-night there will be a charming social gathering and all the choice delicacies of the season will be served.

The Chrysanthemum.

A gift from Orient to Occident. The golden flower, chrysanthemum fair. Has the Old to the New one ever sent. Aught so redolent, radiant and rare?

It comes from the gardens of far Cathay. And isles of Cipango that fringe the main: From where the Ganges and the Indus stray. O'er the yellow sands of India's plain.

Its barbaric splendor, its glint and glow. Were caught from the hues of the morning sun. As he rose from the broad Pacific's flow. Like a wondrous gem, from the great deep won.

And now in our Hesperian clime. And here under our own warm, Southern skies. It blooms and it flames in the autumn time. And its perfume softens the wind's deep sighs.

For the year is fading to somber gray. The color is going from flower and green. But chrysanthemum in her bright array. Comes along with her train, a gorgeous queen.

She comes, and there is a shimmer of white. As fair and as pure as the driven snow. That glitters on far Himalayan height. Unstained by aught from the world below.

She is here, and there is a gleam of gold. Yellow as the wool of mythical lore. And her robes of purple with crimson fold. The long lost Tyrian art restore.

And this is the queen that rules here to-day. We pay her homage and wish her long life. O, sweet chrysanthemum! long be your stay. And with oriental opulence rife.

Nice Apples, Turkeys and Chickens, at A. E. Jordan's.

FOUR BURGLARS JAILED.

The Miscreants Who Burglarized and Almost Killed Mr. S. R. Gill Captured and Put in Jail.

The four men who broke into the house of Mr. S. R. Gill, in this county, last Saturday, and nearly killed that gentleman and robbed him of one hundred and fifty dollars, were brought here yesterday afternoon and jailed.

They are Samuel Daniels, Fon Jones, Joe Davis and Joe Martin. They are all young white men, three of them being married and having families.

All of the men were identified by Mr. Gill at the time they perpetrated the outrage, and the first three men were arrested soon after they had committed the crime. Joe Martin made his escape and got far off as Henderson, but it that place he got very drunk by spending his ill gotten money for whiskey, became very much befuddled and when he left there he took a train which carried him right back to Wake Forest and right into the hands of justice. He was arrested as soon as he got off the train. He was searched and it was found that he had only one cent of the money which he had shared by his crime. A part of the money was recovered from the other three men.

All have confessed their guilt of the crime with which they are charged, and all but Joe Martin have broken completely down under the sense of their guilt. They have been wailing and crying almost ever since the arrest.

It is learned that all were on a spree and were desperately drunk when they forced Mr. Gill's house and left him for dead.

Mr. Gill has recovered from their severe attack and was able to attend the preliminary hearings at Wake Forest yesterday.

The men were brought here by Messrs. W. W. Holding, T. L. Dunn, Jack Harris and W. H. Kiddick.

The trial took place before W. C. Brewer, J. P. Mr. W. J. Peck, of Raleigh, appeared for the prosecution. The defendants had as their counsel J. C. L. Harris, Esq., of Raleigh. The only witness introduced was Fon Jones, one of the prisoners, who turned "State's evidence." After a fair and impartial trial, Justice Brewer bound the defendants, Sam Daniels, Joe Davis, Fon Jones and Joe Martin over to the January term of court, without bail.

For the Soldiers' Home.

The laying of the corner stone of Trinity College was a great day for Durham and many good things were done. Not among the least was one which the following letter from Mr. J. S. Carr to Mr. W. C. Stronach tells of:

With best wishes for the success of the Home, I remain Yours Very Truly

NORRIS' DRY GOODS STORE.

46 Inch Henriettas. In Sunday morning's papers we advertised 46 inch Henriettas worth $1.00 for only 74 cents. This low price made them move -- and while the profits are quite small the increased sales has justified the experiment. Our short space forbids the enumerating of many SPECIAL BARGAINS we offer, some at less than 50 cents on the dollar. Ask to see them.

NORRIS' DRY GOODS STORE.

Why Should You or We Hesitate? We do not hesitate to say freely and above board that we sell the same goods for less money than any house in our knowledge. We don't say that we sell a cheaper class of goods than any one else. We do not, but we do sell good, honest, reliable goods at lower figures than you find them elsewhere. Every one who deals with us sees at a glance that what we say in our "ads." is always correct. Now, some weeks ago we advertised carpets extensively. Our trade in that line increased in one week one hundred per cent. We have never had one person to say they were disappointed when we showed them through. Thus it is always with us: we avoid all high sounding words and phrases and stick squarely to solid facts and figures. Are we right, or are we not right? I ask you to answer this question and come and see the handsomest display of new cloaks in all styles and qualities you have seen in five years. They are at SWINDELL'S.

Fine Butter.

At this season and for some months to come. Choice Northern creamery butter is at its best. ## THE WORLD'S COMMERCE.

New York, November 12. - Messrs. Hubbard, Price & Company in their cotton circular to-night say: "A feeling of buoyancy, that was in marked contrast to the depression of yesterday, made itself felt in financial circles to-day as a result of the action of the Clearing House in resolving upon the unlimited issue of certificates, and values on the New York Stock Exchange show a sharp improvement. Cotton has sympathized about 8 to 9 points, notwithstanding a decline of 2 to 3-4 in Liverpool. The weakness abroad, our cables inform us, was entirely due to the report that Messrs. Neill Bros.' estimate of the crop was 13,000,000 minimum. The firmer feeling in the market was due, also, in a measure to the belief that grade differences will be revised."

Receipts at the ports to day were estimated 35,000 bales, against 32,399 bales last week and 49,137 bales last year. The spot market is steady at former quotations; middling uplands 9 5/8; sales 453 bales.

New York Money Market.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12. - Money loaned at 6 per cent., after loaning most of the day at 5 1/2 per cent per diem and the legal rate. This was the highest rate. The lowest was 3 per cent. Exchange closed steady; posted rates 4 1/2 @ 4 3/4; actual rates 4 7/8 @ 4 7/4 for 60 days and 4 1/2 @ 4 1/4 for demand. Governments closed steady; currency sixes 113 bid; four (coupons) 125 bid; four-and-a-half (coupons) 101 bid.

The immediate effect of the decision of the New York Clearing House to issue certificates to be used in the settlement of balances was today a great relief to the market, and a beneficial effect in helping the recovery of 1 to 3 per cent. in the stock market during the first hour of business. This improved feeling was helped by cable dispatches from London, announcing higher prices for American stocks there, and also a heavy gold shipment from Russia to the Bank of England. It was stated that 1,500,000 pounds of gold would be sent from Russia to the Bank of England, and that Brazil would send 600,000 pounds of gold to its London house early next month.

At the bank of North America business opened up as usual. President Dowd had frequent consultations during the morning with the directors and it was given out that the $500,000 shortage of the bank at the clearing house yesterday had been taken care of. The bank had loaned a large amount to Decker, Howell & Co., the suspended brokers, on North American and Northern Pacific shares, but it was claimed there was ample margin to protect the loan. Considerable of these stocks were sold at the Stock Exchange to-day and it is believed the entire amount held by the bank had been liquidated. It was also said that the Mechanics and Traders and North River banks
